

Several other options include (but are not limited to):

- ISEP programs in most countries!

Contact Us for More Info!
email: international@elmhurst.edu

Research your options online at:
elmhurst.studioabroad.com

“This semester to me represented something similar to a garden. It was an escape from me. In America, people can make an influence on my personality and expect me to be a certain way. However, in a different country, I had the chance to realize who I really was and learn about myself from telling others who I am.”

- Jessica, Australia

STUDY AWAY: Education Department HIGHLIGHTS

CENTER FOR PROFESSIONAL EXCELLENCE
INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

Comparative Education and Social Change (SIT)

This program gives you the opportunity to engage in rigorous academic coursework and research on educational systems in urban and rural areas of Chile and Argentina. You will spend time in a variety of schools, gaining insight on the workings of public, private, voucher, underprivileged, coed, and single-sex institutions. Throughout, you will consider the application of popular education as a tool for social change.

- Locations: Buenos Aires, Argentina, Santiago, Chile, and Valparaiso, Chile
- ◆ Language of Instruction: Spanish

University of Cape Town (Arcadia)

If you're looking for the widest choice of courses in South Africa and an institution with weight and prestige then studying abroad at the University of Cape Town (UCT) is probably the best bet for you. Perched on the side of Table Mountain, UCT has stunning vistas from every angle and is a popular choice for study abroad. Of its population of more than 20,000, about 4,000 students are International.

- ◆ Location: Cape Town, South Africa
- ◆ Living Arrangements: Houses, apartments

University of New South Wales (Education Abroad Network)

Within walking distance of stunning Coogee Beach and home to Australia's oldest study abroad program, the University of New South Wales offers students an impressive array of courses to choose from and a comfortable campus in which to do so. Students participating in our UNSW study abroad program have access to exciting pre-semester and spring break excursions. Begin the experience with an exciting 5-day orientation in Sydney and you have the makings of a one-of-a-kind semester at UNSW!

- Location: Sydney, Australia

