“This semester to me represented something similar to a garden. It was an escape from me. In America, people can make an influence on my personality and expect me to be a certain way. However, in a different country, I had the chance to realize who I really was and learn about myself from telling others who I am.”

- Jessica, Australia

STUDY AWAY: Intercultural Studies Highlights

CENTER FOR PROFESSIONAL EXCELLENCE
INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

Hanyang University (ISEP Exchange)

The main campus is located in the center of Seoul. The University has its own subway station (Hanyang University Station) located on campus, providing students safe and convenient transportation to anywhere around the city.

- ◆ Location: Seoul, South Korea
- ◆ Living Arrangements: Residence Halls, Off-campus apartments

Switzerland: International Studies and Multilateral Diplomacy

From its base in Geneva, this program provides a thorough background in international studies, using an experiential case study approach. The program addresses the most contemporary international issues through classroom seminars and through lectures and briefings at international organizations, including United Nations agencies, the Red Cross, and EU institutions, among others.

- Location: Geneva, Switzerland
- Housing: You will live with a Swiss or international family in a village or town near Nyon for 14 weeks during the semester. Exposure to the country's cultural and ethnic mosaic will help you understand the traditional values of the Swiss political system: federalism, tolerance, respect for minorities, neutrality, and direct democracy. Other accommodations during the program include hostels or small hotels during study trips.

Paris - Business & International Affairs (IES)

When most people think of Paris, they think of iconic sights, like the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame, and the Arc de Triomphe. These sites are important emblems of France's history, but today Paris is one of the most important business, financial, and political centers of the world. It has one of the highest GDPs of any city in the world, and is home to Fortune Global 500 companies that specialize in insurance, banking, and energy.

- Location: Paris, France
- Living Arrangements: Homestays, international house, Apartments
- Multiple field trips through out the semester with the IES team
