Elmhurst College Wins Tree Campus USA® Recognition

The Arbor Day Foundation has honored Elmhurst College with 2019 Tree Campus USA® recognition for its commitment to practicing effective urban forest management.

Elmhurst College's entire 48-acre campus is a registered arboretum that boasts nearly 900 trees and shrubs, including many exotic and rare specimens. The College has regularly received Tree Campus USA® recognition for the last decade.

"Tree Campuses set examples for not only their student bodies but also their surrounding communities, by showcasing how trees create a healthier environment," said Dan Lambe, president of the Arbor Day Foundation.

"Because of Elmhurst College's participation, the air will be purer, the water cleaner and your students and faculty will be surrounded by the shade and beauty that the trees provide."

The Tree Campus USA program honors colleges and universities for effective campus forest management and for engaging staff and students in conservation goals.

"Our arboretum campus is one of Elmhurst College's most distinctive and beloved features, and I commend our facilities and grounds staff for their wonderful work—it's because of them that we earn this recognition year after year," said President Troy D. VanAken.

College Honors Holocaust Survivor, Fulfilling a Final Wish

For more than 25 years, Adele Laznowski Zaveduk shared her story about being one of the "hidden children" of the Holocaust, living with a Christian family when her parents were sent to Auschwitz. Telling her story to schoolchildren, in particular, was her life's mission.

Suffering from advanced heart failure, Zaveduk, 82, began hospice care in her Northbrook home this past November. During a visit from a hospice chaplain, Zaveduk revealed her life's deepest regret—that she'd never had the chance to complete her education by finishing high school and going to college.

The chaplain, Nicolle See Grasse '89, immediately turned for help to her alma mater, Elmhurst College; and the Illinois Holocaust Museum and Education Center, where Zaveduk was a member of the speakers bureau.

Recognizing Zaveduk's significant contributions and the urgency of the request, President VanAken agreed to the creation of an award to honor her.

"Elmhurst College is so aware of what is the right thing to do, and of how much it meant to this person who was facing the end of her life," Grasse said. "The fact that my college came through means the world to me."

During a small gathering in late November, Chaplain H. Scott Matheney presented Zaveduk with a certificate of appreciation for educating generations of young people about the horrors of the Holocaust.

"To look in the face of that amazing woman, knowing her history and what she's done—it was an amazing honor for the College, and for me, to be able to recognize her," Matheney said. Zaveduk died peacefully at home on Jan. 23.

College to Host Recycling Extravaganza on April 18

On Saturday, April 18, Elmhurst College will host its annual Recycling Extravaganza, a place to bring a variety of items that will be recycled, reused and kept out of landfills.

Acceptable items include building supplies, clothing, bicycles, books, home goods and much more. Paper shredding also will be available. Because the City of Elmhurst now offers quarterly electronics recycling, the Elmhurst College Recycling Extravaganza will not be collecting electronics.

The Recycling Extravaganza will be held from 9:00 a.m. to noon on Saturday, April 18, in the Mill Theatre and Alexander Street parking lots. More information and a complete list of items that will be accepted at the event will be at elmhurst.edu/sustainability after March 1. Questions? Email sustainable@elmhurst.edu.
